HOUSING AUTHORITY AND BOARD OF ASSESSORS DIFFER IN TOWN NEEDS FOR HOUSING

A difference of opinion as to the need for additional housing, both congregate and individual houses as proposed by Ms. June Mendell, executive director of the Mattapoisett Housing Authority, was voiced by John Gibbons and Bruce E. Rocha of the Board of Assessors at last Tuesday's Selectmen's meeting.

Ms. Mendell explained that the support of town departments is necessary to get a favorable response to the authority's request for a state grant. The Board of Selectmen, Board of Health Nurses, Village Court residents, Seniors' Club and the Council on Aging have expressed their support, she said. However, the assessors did not give their support, she added.

Speaking on behalf of the assessors, both Gibbons and Rocha said they did not doubt the need for subsidized housing but agreed that in good conscience they could not sign the proposal. Rocha said, "We are caretakers of the property tax base. This proposal sounds good, but I question whether we can afford it."

Gibbons objected to the 1978 study that reported the town needed housing. He felt a more up-to-date study should be made. Also, he said what bothered him was that only 20 residents at Village Court are from Mattapoisett. Gibbons noted only one person left an owned house to go into Village Court - most of the residents going into subsidized housing moving from rental property.

Ms. Mendell countered with the fact that 80 percent are either Mattapoisett residents or Mattapoisett affiliated. She agreed the rents are fairly high in Mattapoisett. She related that some people rent in winter at low cost and bunk-up in the summer when rents increase.

Rocha said people are asking him why have subsidized housing that will lessen the tax base when the Old Rochester Regional Junior High School needs a new roof.

Selectman Frank Suzan asked the assessors how they judge whether there is a need for subsidized housing. Rocha said a new study is in order; a private study and not a public one that would favor the state subsidized housing. "We are supposed to be a wealthy town but our tax base is shrinking, not broadening."

Again the housing director and the assessors differed when Ms. Mendell said businesses contribute the highest percentage of taxes. "By having elderly housing where it is, 52-plus residents shop in the immediate area, thus helping these businesses to help the tax base."

Rocha objected saying our study shows businesses are not where our greatest tax base comes from. It is the summer residents - they pay taxes but use few services. He noted that when a business left the Industrial Park, the tax loss was less than what we had been spending on services for the workers and their families.

Ms. Mendell said no specific dollar amount has been put on the grant. The Mattapoisett proposal seeks 10 to 16 congregate units and one to four houses purchased for families, if the grant is allowed.

She hesitated in allowing selectmen to see the Housing Authority's written proposal that was sent to the state because the building sites being considered for the congregate housing were listed. "Do you want this information made public before an award is made?", she asked. When Selectmen agreed this is public information, the director consented to have the information made available to them.

For the fourth time Ms. Mendell and the Assessors disagreed when she claimed that if the town does not provide public housing with the town and Housing Authority to oversee proper control, the state can permit private developers to move in and put up housing with resulting problems that Wareham is experiencing. Rocha disagreed saying private developers have to come before many town boards before any housing is built. The director added that the authority too has to come before these boards.

In conclusion, Selectman Suzan recommended Ms. Mendell obtain figures from the state citing what the percentage of need is in Mattapoisett for housing.

On another matter involving the Village Court, Ms. Mendell presented the board with a check for $1,000 as a token gift from the Village Court maintenance fund for what transpired when Village Court had at least seven false fire alarms. She said she contacted Fire Chief Donald Wood on the amount and she noted the amount can be used by the fire department in any way they wish.

TOWN COUNSEL ADVISED BOARD TO ACCEPT LAND

In describing the area of Strawberry Point (off Point Connett) as "absolutely gorgeous", Town Counsel Donald J. Fleming recommended to Selectmen they accept the donation to the town of Lot #70 from owner Mrs. Alice Deery. The board agreed and an article will be placed in the town warrant asking the voters to accept the deed, at no cost to the town.

Fleming noted the town now owns Lots 43, 44, 45, 46, 47 and 48, and with this addition the town will be in pretty good shape. He felt the town residents should be made aware of the beautiful area. However, he said he doesn't feel there should be any development.

Suzan asked Fleming if the town should put up a sign reading "pass at your own risk". Fleming replied yes, but only if "we become

CERTIFICATE PRESENTED TO PETER SCOTT

A certificate recognizing his "heroic life saving action" was presented to Fireman Peter C. Scott by Chairman John F. DeCosta on behalf of the Board of Selectmen. In making the presentation, DeCosta quoted from a letter sent to Fire Chief Donald Wood from Police Chief James Moran. There were townspeople on hand to offer congratulations to Peter.

The letter read, in part, "On the morning of March 17, at approximately 6:12 a.m., Peter received a phone call at his home. The call was traced to a 79-year old woman who had suffered a stroke, and because of his quick action, she was taken to Tobey Hospital.

"I bring this incident to your attention because Peter, as a member of your department, and being a conscientious person, deserves credit for a job well done, and most likely saving a person's life. As Police Chief, I know how important and many times overlooked and taken for granted it is when a person performs a life saving task."

aware people are swimming there". Selectmen noted the Police Department will be notified to patrol the area.

In other business, Selectmen:

MET WITH Marc Goddu, his partner Alan Boling, and town counsel to sign a Buy/Sell Agreement of the Grange Hall granting the buyers an as/is, quit-claim deed.

Town Counsel Fleming noted the sale price of $35,000 would be paid first by a deposit of $1,500 which will be held in escrow and the balance of $33,500 being paid on May 25.

Goddu will have to receive approval from the Zoning Board of Appeals at its April 19 hearing to alter the building into four, two-bedroom apartments. The agreement noted the buyers would have the option to apply for a permit to build two more apartments if town sewerage is installed.

Up-front taxes due will be discussed with the Board of Assessors. Fleming said he couldn't speak for the Assessors, but that he supposed taxes would be based on the sale price as the property is not now on the tax roles.

Goddu and Boling explained they expected construction to start one month after the closing (May 25) and completed for occupancy about seven months later.

On a similar matter, Selectmen said there can be no yard sale of items in the Grange Hall as previously announced but that a form of auction will be held April 28 to dispose of the goods.

APPROVED the application of Thomas Settipane to make structural changes at The Nest, d/b/a Gaetano's, 79 Fairhaven Road. No one appeared in opposition. Settipane explained the lounge will be extended to make room for 10 more tables.

EXTENDED THANKS to Kenny Pacheco of the Village Sign Shop for lettering, lacquering and installing the sign in front of the Town Hall.

RECEIVED an application from Al Sears, 128 North Street, for consideration for the position of Sealer of Weights and Measures.

GRANTED permission to Matthew Gamache and Anne Marie DeFreitas to hold a wedding ceremony at the gazebo at Shipyard Park. However, a request to hold a reception with a band under a tent on the grounds of Joseph's Old Tavern Inn was denied because of the parking problem and the noise factor so close to homes.

BOARD REORGANIZES

Following the recent town election when Selectman James F. Huntoon was re-elected, Selectmen voted to retain the present set-up of the Board: John N. DeCosta, chairman; and Huntoon, clerk. The third member, Frank Suzan, noted the board has worked well together this way so there is no need to change it.

ORR Girls Track

At the annual Falmouth Relays, the ORR girls' Track team collected 32 ribbons and placed second overall from a field of 16 schools.

Since the ORR ladies are a very young team this year, the efforts the girls gave were extremely rewarding.

The relays did not involve any field events, only track events.

The following teams took places:

4 x 1 mile: Marcia Reed, Melissa Munroe, Amy Surprenant, and Chris Schatzel, 6th.

Shuttle Hurdles: Mel Johnson, Kim Knight, Cindy Duarte, and Meri Mattson, 3rd.

4 x 110 Relay: Kris Lacroix, Lysa Durden, Ruah Mendes and Amy Mott, 3rd.

4 x 880 Relay: (2 teams placed), Carrie Kunz, Christine Williams, Michelle Kirby, and Kerri Normand, 2nd; also, Karen Nunes, Ann Reidl, Caren Dunn, and Chris Ann Brown, 6th.

Distance Medley: Rachel Crook, Cindy Duarte, Liz Braga, and Alycia Potter, 6th.

4 x 440 Relay: Carrie Kunz, Meri Mattson, Chris Schatzel and Kerri Normand, 3rd.

The team has opened up with 2 meets, a very close loss to Winter Track Champs Bishop Feehan by a 64-63 score, and a big win over Bishop Connolly by a score of 103-24.

Harold Roeder, the co-ordinator of Senior Bus and Minibus Trips, reports that there are still a few seats available for the three-day Big Bus trip to Beacon Hotel in Lincoln, New Hampshire, and he has extended the reservation time to April 19th to allow last minute reservations. The trip runs Sunday through Tuesday, June 3rd, 4th, and 5th. There are circulars in our office, and the trip details were originally given in our news in Presto dated February 22nd. Anyone interested get in touch with Harold Roeder at once (telephone 758-4571). The trip is open to Seniors from neighboring towns, and if all seats have not been taken, there is a possible chance of taking one or two non-Seniors to fill the bus.

Next week we will insert our ad and news release for trips in May. Please remember that to make a reservation for a Minibus trip, visit or phone our office at the Town Hall not more than a week before the date of the trip. Our office is open Monday through Friday, 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon, and the telephone number is 758-3758.

FISH Meeting

On Tuesday, April 24th, at 10:00 a.m. there will be a FISH meeting at the Mattapoisett Congregational Church.

For those people who are new in town or not familiar with this organization, it is a service organization that provides transportation in emergency situations, and rides for those people who have appointments (medical, etc.) and no other means of transportation. We have all been in a situation where this kind of help is required. If we have enough volunteers we can provide this much needed service for the community.

If you live in Mattapoisett and can donate some (even a little) free time, please come to the meeting and meet your neighbors who help with this worthwhile service.

If you are home with small children, an-

MILL RESTORATION

When Edward Winslow built a dam, harnessed the West Branch of the Mattapoisett River, and established a forge in 1725, he was the first person in a long line to have a thriving business on that site. Over the years the owners have changed, and the uses have changed. The names have included West, Ruggles, King and Hartley - the uses have been forge, grist mill, sawmill, shingle mill and box board mill.

In 1969 the businesses came to a close when the Hartley Saw Mill ceased operations. The buildings crumbled. The gears rusted.

This year, a lease was contracted between Henry Hartley, the present owner, and the Historical Society...and together they are beginning a restoration project that will put Rochester on the map of places of interest for every historical buff in the United States.

The Restoration aims at the "Gay Nineties" period, when Henry Hartley's grandfather, James, bought the mill. A building is about to be moved onto the mill site, a building that was built about when Edward Winslow was building his first building, but which has served as a barn, for the Hartley family. The building is the same proportions as the still existing foundation, and will house the main exhibit.

The Mill Office building, which stands on the site now, will have a twofold use. The main office will be restored to as nearly its 1890's appearance as can be, and will be a source of information, souvenirs, and one-day tickets to the tour of the mill. The second part of the building will be an exhibit room, with artifacts which have been found on the mill site, as well as other Rochester artifacts. This room will also serve as a conference room for tour groups, and slides and short lectures about the mill will be available at some future date. The ladies of the Society are already at work on this project and may be found at the "office" almost every Saturday afternoon, for anyone who'd like to stop by.

The men of the Society have spent years cleaning up debris from the old mills, collecting material and learning the mill science. They have also put in many hours strengthening the old barn to make it a sound antique building. They have not yet decided to what use this mill will be put. It depends mostly on what authentic equipment can be obtained.

In the meantime work goes on. Help of all kinds is gratefully accepted. A fund has been established, with Paul Dalbec as treasurer. Renowned artist Barry Simon has donated his service to design a unique T-shirt which will be sold to help raise funds.

This is just the beginning. Ultimately, Rochester will have a mill complex, with a working mill designed for the public to enjoy, with safe walkways for the best viewing. Within the complex will be a forge, a picnic area overlooking the mill pond, and perhaps a "miller's home". Our ambitions are tempered only by our limited personnel

All the students who competed in the state competition had previously been winners in the southeast regional competition, which was held this year at Old Colony.

The Massachusetts Vocational Industrial Clubs of America (VICA) celebrates its tenth year of existence this year. According to its statement of purpose, "VICA emphasizes respect for the dignity of work, good workmanship, leadership and concern for others. VICA teaches how to live and work with others and relates school experiences to a young person's personal search for meaning, identity and achievement."

Old Colony's involvement with VICA represents part of the continuing effort to bring representatives of education and industry together. Trade professionals are utilized as judges in the Skill Olympics and students, through their interactions with the judges, get first-hand knowledge of "professional standards".

SCHOOL AND PUBLIC LIBRARIANS MEET

A meeting of the area school and public librarians was held on April 4th at 1:00 p.m. Seven members attended. Librarians from Center School, Old Hammondtown School, Rochester Memorial School had meetings in their own individual schools requiring their attendance.

A discussion was held concerning the weeding of book collections, and procedures followed for making inventories in libraries. The storage of periodicals on microfilm and microfiche was debated.

The librarians were impressed with the book collection at the Old Rochester Regional Junior High School Library, the physical set-up, and the general attractiveness of the area. The mobiles from Mr. Mello's art students drew compliments from everyone.

The next meeting is scheduled to be hosted by Mrs. Elise Mock at the Tabor Academy Library.

CLASS OF '85 THINKS OF MAY OF '84

The Junior Class of Old Rochester Regional High School is planning a prom on May 18th at the Kittansett Club, Marion. We are trying to set up a "Safe Prom Campaign". This must include parental help and involvement to make it a success. We would also like to see student participation in this program. The goals we have set are:

To minimize drinking and driving during and after the prom.

To discourage drinking by drivers.

To encourage teens to refuse to ride with a driver who has been drinking.

To encourage seeking safe alternative transportation if faced with a drinking/driving situation.

To organize action teams of student, school staff and community people to develop and implement plans for safe proms in their own communities.

We are setting up a telephone hotline and need more volunteers. There will be assemblies with Stan Ennis, Mattapoisett Police Department Safety Officer, a speaker from the

SPECIALISTS DO SOMETHING SPECIAL

While the eyes of the world turned to Yugoslavia for the celebration of the fourteenth Winter Olympiad, the Specialists of Old Rochester Regional Junior High School brought a bit of Sarajevo to Mattapoisett.

Teachers in the areas of Art, Music, Home Economics, Industrial Arts, and Physical Education celebrated the games with "Olympic Awareness Weeks" commencing on the eighth of February.

Each morning students heard daily Olympic Information which described the events, outlined the courses and provided historic material on the growth and symbolism of the Games. During the class hours usually spent involved in physical activities, students enjoyed complete video coverage of the events aired the previous evening. Each day brought bright color and news as displays of media coverage grew and flags of competing Nations were hung.

The Home Economics Department showed its spirit by preparing carbohydrate-rich meals suitable for an Olympic athlete, while our Art students created stained glass windows or designs in clay, depicting the Olympic Events. Concluding each day, our student community was brought up-to-date with the medal count. While it may not have been the most rewarding "Games" for the United States in terms of precious medals, it was a most precious experience for the Junior High School.

Faculty members participating in the project included: Mrs. Janis Johnson, Mr. John Shockro, Miss June Therrien, Mr. Leo Chretien, Mr. Richard Mello, Mrs. Sue Wheeler, Mrs. Marianne Santos, and Mr. George Murphy.

Letters to the Editor

I should like to publicly thank the Junior High School for inviting the Senior Citizens to their dress rehearsal of "Coming of Age".

Friendly students greeted our arrival and directed us to the cafetorium where they served us coffee before and during the performance (since some of us usually nap at this time and they wanted to keep us awake??) with the addition of delicious cakes at intermission.

Mr. Moore, the assistant principal, thoughtfully introduced the cast to us before the play began, enabling us to recognize our neighbors' talented grandchildren.

The young people did a superb job of demonstrationg both the sad and amusing facets of adolescence. Mr. Moore's direction showed a tremendous understanding of children and an ability to accept all of their efforts with appreciation and a keen sense of humor.

A highlight of the afternoon had to be when the enthusiastic thespians joined us between acts to chat informally and in such an outgoing, sincere way. If they typify the majority of their age group, our nation's future is in capable hands! Such warm and caring attitudes cannot be judged by S.A.T. scores.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

The issue of the return of prayer to our classrooms is not dead; the majority of our Senate voted for it; eighty percent of Americans favor it; history, repeating itself, as it always has, predicts it.

When General Douglas MacArthur was forced to leave the Philippines he predicted, "I shall return!" Return he did. Just as surely will the right to pray be returned to America's classrooms.

We find it hard to understand why some of our clergy and many of our so-called intelligencia, knowing that this rejection of public school prayer was engineered by a well-financed aethiest, persuading a Humanist Supreme Court that such prayer was unconstitutional, could buy such nonsense!

One hundred and seventy-five years of prayer in our schools, coinciding as it did with the period when America grew to greatness, is of significance. Even the Humanists should admit the possibility of this significance! This growth to greatness earned the respect and the envy of many cultures and political persuasions--aethiestic Marxism begin the exception.

It is futile for the Humanists to continue to mouth the fallacious argument that religion and prayer belong only in the home and the church. Neither the average home, nor the average church, are now operating effectively in this field. The average American citizen knows this to be true; it's high time that our sophisticated Liberals admit this truth.

We are ill-serving our children. We have reduced the great number of our supportive families; we have taken away the strong support of school discipline; we have taken away the needed support of religion and school prayer. Small wonder the tremendous increase of suicide among our young folks.

Nearly a hundred years ago, Noah Webster, a great American of his day, told his countrymen, "Education without the Bible is ultimately worthless".

Coming to Zeiterion:

KEVIN McCARTHY STARS IN GIVE 'EM HELL HARRY

Give 'Em Hell Harry, the exciting one-man extravaganza starring Kevin McCarthy, will be presented by the Zeiterion Theatre on Saturday, April 28th, at 8:00 p.m. McCarthy, one of the most distinguished American actors to ever grace a stage, will portray Harry S. Truman in this highly acclaimed one-man show.

This play, written by Samuel Gallu, is not a lecture, a recitation of speeches and writing, or the reminiscences of a humorist. It's a drama, a vaudeville show, a political cabaret-act about a President who was not afraid to shoot from the hip or lip.

Kevin McCarthy's magnetic performance as this fiesty, no-nonsense American legend has inspired critics to praise him as "an actor of remarkable range and power". Margaret Truman has said of his performance, "Kevin McCarthy is superb as my father in Give 'Em Hell Harry".

American audiences have enjoyed Mr. McCarthy's work on TV in "Flamingo Road", on the movie screen in such acclaimed films as "Death of a Salesman" and "The Invasion of the Body Snatchers", and the stage in "Cactus Flower" and Chekov's "The Seagull". This award-winning actor was recently seen in the movie, "Twilight Zone".

Give 'Em Hell Harry had its premiere in 1975 at Ford's Theatre in Washington, D.C., and has been playing to rave reviews and standing-room-only houses across the country. The performance at the Zeiterion is especially significant since May 8 is the centennial of President Truman's birth. On October 29, 1944, then Senator Truman

Filled with power, laughter, rage and determination, Give 'Em Hell Harry will offer Zeiterion audiences the chance to relive a remarkable period of American history that produced a unique and rare American personality: Harry S. BICYCLE TRIP IN MYLES STANDISH STATE FOREST

Pine "barrens" are far from barren. They are, in fact, vibrantly alive, but suffer from a misleading name. The Plymouth County Wildlands Trust is sponsoring a bicycle trip in Myles Standish State Forest in Plymouth on Saturday, April 21st. from 8:45 a.m. until noon as the first in a series of programs to awaken interest in these unique and vulnerable ecological areas. The public is invited to meet in front of the Administration Building at Forest Headquarters on Cranberry Road near the intersection with Lower College Pond Road. Take exit 5 off Route 3 to Long Pond Road; turn right, follow to Alden Road; turn right on Alden, follow to Lower College Pond Road. Headquarters can also be reached from Route 58 in South Carver. There is no fee. For information call 826-5050 or 759-4431.

and Federal Ranger at the Cape Cod Canal, will lead the six-mile trip through the heart of the forest, one of the oldest and largest state parks in Massachusetts, past many small bogs and ponds. There will be a stop at Little College Pond, where there have been sightings of the Plymouth Redbellied turtle, a rare and endangered species. Most of the heavy pedaling is in the first part of the trip, so participants can look forward to coasting downhill on the return. A water bottle, snack, hat, gloves and sweater are suggested for comfort.

Wildlife abounds at Myles Standish, where the dry, sandy soils of the barrens also nurture more than half of the rare plants found in Massachusetts. The Plymouth County Wildlands Trust, which now preserves nearly 800 acres of conservation land in 8 towns, recognizes the Plymouth pine barrens as rare and remarkable places that need protection. PCWT is therefore devoting much of its public programming to them this year.

In addition to the bicycle trip, PCWT is co-sponsoring a summer lecture series on the flora, fauna and history of the pine barrens in cooperation with the Manomet Bird Observatory and Plimoth Plantation. The series will be on consecutive Wednesday evenings at 7:30, beginning on July 18th, in the Orientation Building at the Plantation. PCWT is also planning walks at its own reservations to enhance and complement the lecture series.

The Plymouth pine barrens are the third largest in the eastern United States. Scorned by early settlers who preferred fertile soil for farming, they were dismissed by 17th century explorer John Smith as "hills of sand, overgrown with shrubby pines and such trash". Today, unfortunately, they are often viewed as good for little but housing development, but beneath the barrens flows an estimated 120 million gallons per day in the Plymouth-Carver Aquifer, a rich and much coveted source of water.

Although much of Plymouth, largest town in the state in area, is still covered by pine barrens (as are parts of Bourne, Carver and Wareham), the continued existence of the barrens is by no means certain. Unplanned growth could uproot habitats and contaminate the great acquifer, a fate that overtook the Long Island Pine Barrens after World War II. Withdrawal of too much water from the acquifer for residential, commercial or industrial use could dry up the unique kettle ponds. Suppression of all fire could transform the barrens into a different kind of ecological community, because they need periodic fires to regenerate, as they did in the days before modern fire-fighting. Some observers believe that, if all small fires are suppressed, the build-up of forest litter might eventually lead to a major, perhaps devastating, wildfire.

For more information about the pine barrens or membership in the Plymouth County Wildlands Trust, write in care of State Road, RFD 8, Plymouth, MA. 02360.

Pinewood Derby

On April 7th the Moby Dick Council held its yearly Pinewood Derby at the North Dartmouth Mall.

The Cub Scouts made and painted a car made from a block of wood. They then race in their own Pack (city or town). The top 6 winners then race at the Moby Dick Council race.

Upon arriving at the Mall the Cubs escorted the Easter Bunny around the Mall. Approximately 143 boys raced their cars.

The winners of this race were: first place, Steven Faustino, Pack 30, Rochester; second place, Jason Faustino (not related), Pack 55, Fairhaven; third place, Shane Cabral, Pack 30, Rochester. We wish to congratulate these boys and keep the Scouting Spirit alive!

Easy

Even in the worst weather, it's so easy to get to Parkwood Hospital. It's right there on the Avenue, and all the medical services I need are in one place — the hospital, my doctor's office, and the pharmacy right down the street. And besides being so easy to get to, Parkwood is a special place — they really care about you as a person, not just as a medical case. I wouldn't go anywhere else.
